Threaten Individual Cut-Offs To Unco-Operative Consumers; Aurora Faces Four Daily Blackouts

Aurora—With a quota of 16,800 kwh. per day Aurora will have four hydro cut-offs a day if the quota is not in sight by 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Cut-offs are from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m., 1 a.m. to 2 p.m., 5 p.m. to 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

"A couple of factories are trying to help out with night work," said Mr. Large. Before the quota took effect, Aurora was using an average of 24,000 kwh. a day, he said, and the present quota makes nearly a 30 percent cut. "Our present average is always above the quota," he said. "Some days we get close but other times we are far from the quota."

Tuesday is usually bad, he said, when the factories come back on after a day off Monday. In the meantime, there is considerable difference of opinion among merchants as to the choice of cut-off hours. One merchant queried said he would rather see a heavy cut during the morning instead of the "patchwork cuts" of the present. Another favored a two-hour cut in the afternoon.

The Royal Theatre has a difficulty of opening hours because of the night cut-offs. The office opens as usual at 6:45 p.m. and if the power remains on, the show will start at 7 p.m. If there is a cut-off, it will start at 7:30 p.m.

Ingenuity Plus Beats Hydro Cuts

Aurora—Hydro cuts come and go but the Aurora Hardware enjoys a certain amount of immunity thanks to the ingenuity of its proprietors, John Bowser and son. Mr. Bowser has hitched a generator to a tractor pulley in his back shed and with the 3,000 watts so generated, he is able to keep his store lights.

Full Turn-Out Urged By Mayor Rose

Aurora—"All citizens are asked to turn out to the nomination meeting next Monday night," said Mayor Dr. Crawford Rose to The Era and Express on Tuesday. "It is hoped that as many citizens as possible will be there to show an interest in what has been done in municipal affairs the past year," urged the mayor.

Nominations and a public meeting will be held at the Anglican parish hall Monday night, November 22. From 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. the meeting will be open for nominations of persons to run in the Aurora elections for council. At 8 p.m. the public meeting will commence and reports will be given by all who have been in public office the past year. All persons nominated will have an opportunity to speak.

Dr. Rose declined to comment on whether he would be in the running for mayor again.

SUPERVISOR HERE

Newmarket—Miss Edna L. Squires, regional supervisor for public health, is visiting this district this week.

Allan Gets Home For Christmas

Newmarket—Allan Greenwood returned to Newmarket last Saturday from Toronto General hospital, having gained six pounds since the last operation on his leg.

Last July Allan lost his left foot when he stepped in front of a mower during haying. A fund was set up to help continue his education and his friends contributed over $1,800.

Since he has been back in town, Allan has been to the movies once and has completed a 1,000-piece jigsaw puzzle. He gets around quite well on his crutches. During an interview with The Era and Express today he produced a couple of wallets which he made at the hospital. He spoke highly of the occupational therapy nurses who gave him the opportunity to do leather work.

Allan said he would not be going back to the hospital until January 15 when he thought he would be having another operation.

Newmarket—A warning to heavy individual power users that their meters would be read and a week given to show a reduction or they would be cut off was issued by the Newmarket hydro commission this week. The warning was directed at those suspected of not showing the voluntary reduction of which they are capable.

Newmarket has averaged daily 1,000 kwh. over its quota, and the warning came this week as an alternative to additional daily cuts. "There is no reason to penalize the rest of the town because an individual is not co-operating," said Fred S. Thompson, chairman of the local commission.

To date, industry has not lost an hour of work from hydro cut-offs, but no overtime is being allowed except from midnight to 7 a.m. The meters can be read when power is used during those hours and added to the quota.

"This drastic measure must be taken if industry is to be permitted full production," hydro officials said. Work stoppages in industry mean lower pay cheques.

School By-Law Shelved Again

Newmarket—The third reading of the by-law to borrow $140,000 to build a new public school was shelved again at the meeting of town council on Monday night.

Council decided to put off the third reading because of the absence of one council member. Two weeks ago the same by-law was shelved because of the absence of two council members. One councillor commented that "people are saying that the council is foot-dragging this thing around."

"It was sort of boring sometimes at the hospital," he said, "but I guess I got on their nerves sometimes. I'm getting fat I've gained six pounds since my second operation."

NEW C. OF C. PRESIDENT

Lions Ask Support For Christmas Baskets

Newmarket—Every year, the Lions club prepares and distributes Christmas baskets to those who are in unfortunate circumstances. The ability of the club to do this Christmas job depends upon the contributions of the public. Each year, a subscription list is opened with the names of the donors appearing in The Era and Express. Each year, the same generous spirit of giving is evident among those who assist.

This year, the club has so far listed 37 families, including 111 children, as recipients of Christmas baskets. The baskets contain articles of clothing, biscuits, candy and toys for children up to 12 years. The names are received from the health nurse and are checked by the club. The costs of packaging and distribution are borne by the club.

Sharing in this Christmas giving is one way to spread some of your own Christmas pleasure. Contributions may be made at the banks, Best's Drug Store, or to Tom Doyle, secretary.

New Total Up $722,822 On '48

Newmarket—The equalization of assessments has been completed and Newmarket's new assessment is $3,708,558, an increase of $722,822.80 over the previous assessment of $2,985,735.20.

A letter to property owners, sent out this week from Mayor Jos. Vale, and chairman of the board of assessors, A. R. Howlett, states, "It has been the desire of your council and the aim of the assessors to do away with the inequalities in assessment that have prevailed and irrespective of whether your assessment has been increased or decreased, you may rest assured that everything possible has been done to ensure that all property is assessed on the same basis."

The council had set up a board of assessors earlier to carry out the new assessment of the town. They were B. W. Hunter, G. Frank Doyle, Harold F. Eaton, Ross A. Howlett and Joseph Waterhouse. Their report to council this week stated that the present population figure is 4,521.

The board of assessors recommended to town council that a strong building by-law be passed to be rigidly enforced by a building inspector. They recommended that before a permit is issued, a set of plans and specifications covering construction and alterations be filed at the town engineer's office. A permit fee would pay for an inspector and it would discourage a lot of the haphazard additions that are being put on various buildings in the municipality, they say. The assessors cited a

Aurora Correspondent Rushed To Hospital

The Era and Express had hoped to open its Aurora office within a few days but unfortunately, the Aurora correspondent, Wm. Foote, was rushed to York County Hospital with acute appendicitis Saturday morning. He was operated on by Dr. Crawford Rose and is recovering nicely. The opening of the office has been postponed pending his recovery. In the meantime, however, news items may be left with Mrs. Foote on the ground floor of Donnell Hall, corner of Yonge and Wellington Sts., who will forward them to the Era and Express.

definite case where a property owner put on an addition to a building which encroached on valuable municipal property to the extent of seven and a half feet.

Further recommendations were that a new plan of the town be made up and that all houses be numbered according to their plot and lot plan.

A court of revision is being set up consisting of five persons who are not members of council. The court of revision date has been set at Dec. 14. Property owners can make appeals on their assessments at the court and further appeals can be made to the county judge or the Ontario Municipal board.

Critics Forget Causes For Revision

Newmarket—As many taxpayers angrily argued their new assessments, certain facts have become obscured in the sound and fury. The equalization of assessment was carried out for two reasons: to bring property values into line with 1939-40 values; and to correct discrepancies in assessment, many of which existed on Main St.

While the general trend of new assessments was towards increases, an estimated 15 to 20 percent of the new assessments were lower, bearing out efforts at equalization.

The proportionate increase on Main St. properties was much higher than on home properties, removing a condition which has called for much criticism in the past when it has been stated that Main St. values lagged far behind real values and did not reflect the increase of business on Main St., and other related factors.

The third consideration is that assessment has no real meaning until tied in with the mill rate. Tax revenues for 1948 could be collected on the new assessment by a mill rate considerably lower than this year's. In other words, if the budget for next year is the same as this year, the mill rate will be lower.

The new assessments were set by a board of three men, sitting with two field men who were charged with the collection of facts and figures. There have been many complaints that the field men did not enter homes raised, or in one instance, didn't call at a home which was later increased in assessment by over $400. The field men were hired by the council and not under the authority of the three-men board of review.

One outgrowth of the new assessment has been the growing talk of the formation of a property owners' association, but nothing definite has come of it so far.

Enthusiastic C. Of C. Meeting Plans Santa Claus Parade

Newmarket—Following an enthusiastic meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, committees were named and Leslie Beazer appointed chairman of the Santa Claus parade on Saturday, Dec. 11.

Over 50 Main St. merchants and businessmen attended the meeting which was held in the King George hotel Monday night. Pledges of wholehearted support were made by the members as they discussed the details of the parade.

Tentative plans call for a route down Main St. and circling through the town. It is estimated that if present plans mature, the parade will be close to a half-hour in length. Three, possibly five, bands will be present.

While some floats have already been assured, including one by the recreation commission depicting winter activities at the arena, industries and merchants are urged to join the parade with floats of their own.

The committee is looking for the loan of a four-wheeled dory and tractor for the parade. President Delbert Gibney can give particulars at The Era and Express office. Mr. Beazer is looking for 32 girls to make up a drum majorette corps to march in the parade, uniforms to be supplied.

Fifteen hundred bags of candy are being prepared for distribution as part of the parade. The firemen have been asked to undertake the policing of the parade route and the parade to Santa's throne.

Council Sets Pay For Firemen At $100

Newmarket—Each fireman will be paid $100 a year beginning January 1. A by-law was passed at council Monday night to increase the annual grant which will bring it up to $2,300 a year.

The by-law also says that the fire brigade will be paid $1,450 for the year 1948. The town had budgeted for $800 as the regular grant but the firemen requested an increase recently. Payment for out-of-town calls this year has amounted to $445 with $120 still to be collected. In the future all outside payments will go to the town and not directly to the brigade, according to council.

'Dean Of Weekly Editors' Tells Of Blessings Task Holds

We print here, through the courtesy of the Canadian Industries Limited, an interview with the "Dean of Weekly Editors," George James, publisher of the Bowmanville Statesman. Readers of The Era and Express will be familiar with that paper because of reprinted editorials appearing in The Era and Express, and the occasional reference to Mr. James.

Mr. James spoke on the radio broadcast, C.I.L. Serenade on Sunday and a transcription of his remarks follow:

Life Of A Weekly Editor
"I have yet to meet a successful editor of a Canadian weekly newspaper who would trade jobs with anyone else in the country, even the millionaire industrialist. Indeed the files in my office hold many letters from city tycoons wishing to retire to a small town to become the publisher and editor of a small town paper."

From these facts it will be gathered that being a country editor holds something far richer than accumulating mere dollars, for few rural editors can retire with more than a small retirement income. What then is the great hold that keeps the weekly newspaper editor with his nose to the grindstone till his hair whitens, his hearing fails and he reluctantly makes way for a younger man, usually one of his family?

The thing that grips him, week after week and year after year, is the fact that he feels deeply and sincerely that he is rendering one of the highest services possible in a rural community.

Promoting and defending the moral values among democratic peoples close to the land is the basic force that holds the whole nation together. And the weeklies today are recognized as a great force in promoting national unity and national prosperity. While this high service is always the inspiring factor in publishing a weekly newspaper, the rich rewards come from intimate, almost daily contacts with subscribers. No other publication offers this opportunity. On this "human" level the country editor becomes a versatile character. He is called upon for advice, for leadership, to hold public office; to join organizations for community betterment and to take a stand on almost every question of the day. All this means a busy life that requires working far into the night, time after time.

The versatility of the job may be well illustrated by telling an average experience in a single week. I recall as mayor of the town, being called upon one week to preside at three community meetings; act as end-man in a minstrel show, take part in a football game, make an appeal from the pulpit for funds while treasurer of the church, act as bearer at a funeral, attend a christening, and on top of all this to get out the weekly issue of The Statesman.

These are the things that bring a richness of life not found in the cities. I hope these few remarks may in part answer the question: "Who wouldn't be a country editor?"

MIAMI BEACH

Everyone from this district extends their deepest sympathy to Mrs. Stutley Sedore and family of Brownhill in the loss of a dear husband and father. We also regret to hear Mrs. Emeline Sedore of Brownhill had the misfortune to break her leg. We all wish her a speedy recovery. Old Jack Frost has made his appearance quite frequently lately, and the snow falling makes one feel like he should have his coal bins and wood sheds full.

Mrs. Herb. Sullivan spent last Tuesday in Toronto.

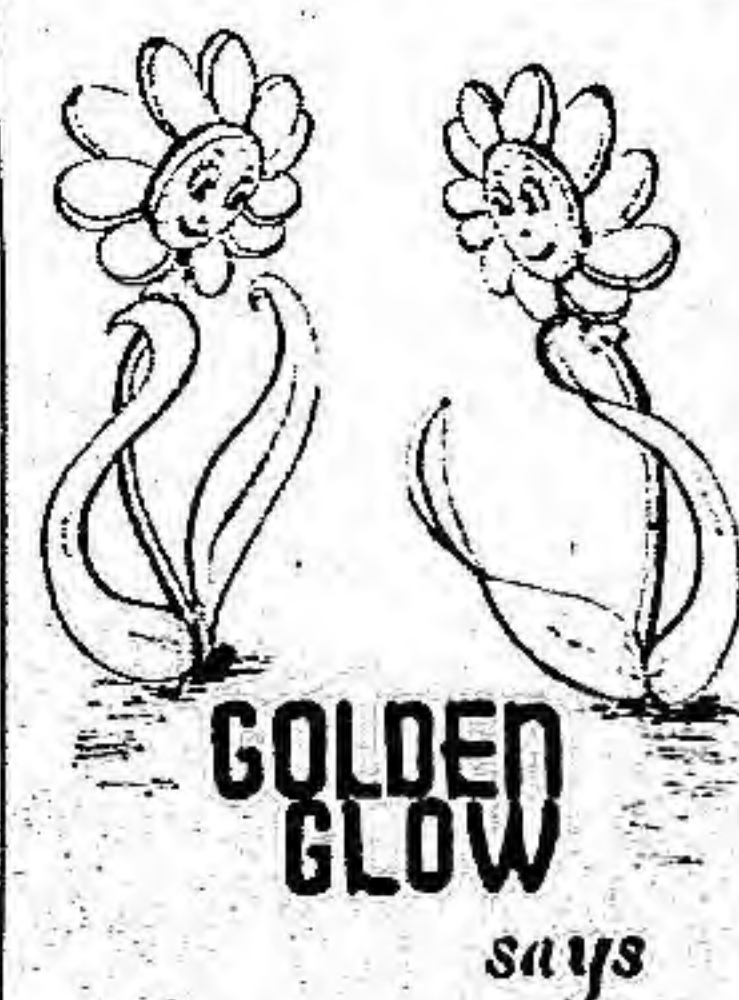

Mr. Bill Foster and Mr. Bob Mathews have gone north deer hunting. We wish them every success.

Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Miller and little Wayne have gone on their holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver King and family spent Sunday with Mrs. King's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Crowder, Baldwin, on the occasion of Mr. Crowder celebrating his birthday. There were 36 present for the celebration.

Mr. Bruce Patrick, Aurora, Miss Kay Arnold and Miss Irene Arnold, Newmarket, called on Mr. and Mrs. Oliver King and family Sunday evening.

Miss Annie Arnold and friend visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crittenden of Sutton.

I was just starting my weekly article when I was interrupted by a call on the phone. Would I listen in over the radio. Several were listening in to be sure of getting the news as soon as it came over the air, for the church bells and the town whistles were to announce the birth of England's expected baby 15 minutes after the news came.

Were you not thrilled to hear Newmarket's greeting to the new prince? Yes, a few minutes after nine o'clock, British time, Princess Elizabeth made the Commonwealth rejoice in the news that a young son had been born to her and Philip. The air just hummed with the news all the rest of the evening. Of course it was around five o'clock in the afternoon here—so at church that evening we could add Princess Elizabeth's son to the list in the prayers for the royal family.

London seems to thoroughly enjoy occasions like this, opportunities to celebrate—and show their loyalty to the British crown, and their intense love for the members of the royal family. One broadcast said Queen Mary, the young prince's great-grandmother, was one of the first visitors to greet him, and the crowds outside the gates of Buckingham Palace gave her a great ovation as she left for her home. Then they began to chant in unison "we want Philip, we want Philip." It just so happened that a man in evening dress stepped out at the palace door and they mistook him for Philip, and the crowd went wild—no doubt to the surprise of the mistaken man!

But it did not dampen their ardor when Philip did appear. London seems to have taken Philip of Mountbatten, Duke of Edinburgh, to their hearts in no mistaken manner and now that he and Princess Elizabeth have given them a prince of the realm, his popularity seems doubly assured.

I think I should end this with a fervent God Save the King.

The birth of the Royal Prince was an excellent opportunity for the lady announcers on the radio who specialize in giving the "woman's point of view". From what we heard on Monday, they outdid themselves with their descriptions of the "tiny things" the Prince will wear, the preparations which had been made for his arrival, the choice of colors, and so on.

One speaker reached a new height of enthusiasm when she wondered aloud: "Does this tiny baby know what is ahead of him, what his position in life will demand of him?" or words to that effect. It is assuming rather complete powers of concentration for a one-day infant, isn't it?

They call these postwar years, "The Years of the Uneasy Peace" but we had no idea how uneasy they were in the minds of some of our readers until two of them called on Sunday as the whistles and church bells were signalling the Royal birth. "Has war been declared?" they asked.

Last week we printed a letter from "Traveller" criticizing the general lack of cultural enlightenment in Newmarket. There were not, he felt, enough concerts, recitals and speakers of a high calibre. We are sure he meant no slight on the performances of, say, the Newmarket Dramatic club or the concerts of the Newmarket Citizens' Band.

These organizations, with the choir groups, Mr. Jackson's orchestra, the Music Society and others which have developed in Newmarket, should receive every encouragement. Indeed, we are not sure that Newmarket appreciates the quality of the presentations of these home-town groups, and their successes in overcoming difficulties inherent in a small centre. We notice, too, that St. Andrew's church choir is preparing for a concert at which two Toronto artists will be guest performers, that the Aurora Music Society has sponsored an appearance of John Knight, talented pianist.

There are other occasions, too numerous to recall, when similar artists have appeared in Newmarket under the sponsorship of local organizations. Perhaps there could be more of that, possibly a concert series such as are now available where there is a sponsoring organization and a large enough hall.

Our correspondent is absolutely correct, however, when he writes of the lack of public addresses. The Lions club and some of the other organizations have had speakers who were informed on some aspect of our times and obligingly imparted that information, but those occasions have not been numerous. There have been many religious speakers, but the lack of general speakers persists, and Newmarket is indeed the loser. Good speakers on every topic under the sun can be had for the arranging and it is a pity that Newmarket is without the advantages to be had from hearing them.

We appreciate the patience with which our readers have endured our inconsistencies in settling on the arrangement of this page. We feel, however, that we are at last settled in these surroundings and hope that you will find them as agreeable as we do. We have been guided in our search for a satisfactory editorial page by the wish to provide our readers with a variety of material which they will enjoy reading, in a setting which is pleasant to the eye. Let us know, won't you, whether we have succeeded?

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

Last Friday evening the C.G.I.T. in connection with the Presbyterian church gave a play entitled Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works. The proceeds amounted to over $20.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cane entertained on Monday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnstone, Toronto, who are leaving for New York in a few days where Mr. Johnstone enters grand opera. During the evening he sang several numbers.

About 11 o'clock on Tuesday evening a call came through that "Richmond Hill was burning down" and asked for hose. Chief Doyle and several firemen and a few young men of the town loaded 500' on Rusto's truck and another 500' from Aurora. On the way down they had a flat tire but made fair time. The fire was a large straw stack nearly a mile from the village.

The steel work on the north side of the Timothy St. bridge providing for a walk so as not to interfere with the roadway is ready for the cement covering. It is expected that the work will be completed this fall.

J. H. Wasley broke the record last Thursday afternoon by being the first to have his cutter out, according to the files of 50 years ago. The snow was about five inches deep and gave everything a winter appearance for a few days. The roads have been muddy since.

There was a large market last Saturday. Butter was so plentiful that the price was inclined to drop, 15 and 16 cents were the prices quoted for the first hours but some was bought at 14 cents before the market closed. Fresh eggs were firm at 19 and 20 cents and packed ones sold at 15 and 16 cents. Dressed chickens were 30 to 40 cents per pair, and first class beef and maple sold at $4 a cord.

Thos. Stewart, Yonge St., took nearly ten barrels of marketable apples off one tree last week.

The Specialty Co. is using Hodge's store as a storeroom and also to manufacture a patent ash sifter which is quite popular now.

Mrs. Olive Niles, who has been on the hospital staff in Rhode Island for the past nine months, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. H. S. Cane.

At a meeting of the University of Toronto senate on Friday Hon. Wm. Mulock was again re-elected vice chancellor by a unanimous vote. He was first elected in 1880 and since that date university federation has been accomplished.

Mr. and Mrs. John Montgomery entertained a number of their grandchildren at dinner last week.

The Editorials:

The Royal Birth

For many non-commonwealth nations, the Royal Family is something of an anachronism. Thus the demonstrations which greeted the birth of the Prince are regarded with the amused indulgence of those who feel they have outgrown that sort of thing.

What is not generally appreciated is that the Royal Family is a symbol of stability which transcends the differences of race and clime, the factionalism of politics, and national adversities. An allegiance to the Royal Family is the common factor which binds the commonwealth members with ties of sentiment, far stronger than ever could be those of self-interest.

The birth of the Prince is fresh assurance of the continuity of the Royal line with its reflection of the security all of us seek in these troubled times.

New Soviet 'Peace Line'

Russia blockaded Berlin in an effort to starve the Allies from that city. Free of Allied interference, Russia could then have assumed control of the city, the first step towards the control of Germany. The Allies answered the blockade with the air-lift which has not only nullified the blockade but provided an excellent demonstration of Allied solidarity before the threat of Russian imperialism.

Now the Russian propagandists have adopted a new line of attack. By implication and outright statement, the Russians have striven to present the Berlin crisis in the light of a purely local disagreement, one which might easily be resolved by conversations between President Truman and Premier Stalin. Such a proposal has found a growing support among those who still do not realize that the Berlin crisis is a symptom, not the cause of east-west differences.

The United States has insisted that a condition of any east-west talks on Berlin is that they must be preceded by the lifting of the Russian blockade. By maintaining this stand in the face of all attempts at intimidation, the United States has heartened Europe into still stronger rejections of Communism, and forced a show-down. To accept the Soviet "peace line" will not erase the basic differences between east and west. It would mean a repudiation of all the United States has accomplished to date and merely postpone the inevitable break to a time more of Russia's choosing.

History's Verdict On Mr. King

History's approval of Mr. King is secure on two counts: he was the architect of the growing unanimity of British-United-States aspirations, and he maintained a unified Canada at a time when Quebec's nationalists had enlisted their greatest support for the free state in the Laurentians.

Mr. King was not a popular leader. His major accomplishments were without public appeal. The course he charted in maintaining Canadian unity caused him to be damned on both sides. Few attached his importance to the conception of Canada's role as the bridge between United States and Great Britain. But history will record that his efforts were major factors in winning the war and maintaining the wartime partnership of the two great powers of the west in peace.

In domestic issues, Mr. King can claim authorship of social legislation which has been the most advanced in the world. He can claim a constant effort to make of Canada a nation increasingly secure in its growth to maturity. As leader of a political party in victory and defeat, he was an adroit politician. He made compromise a fine art. He achieved his objectives by, as his opponents claimed, going in the opposite direction.

Mr. King was ambiguous and verbose. He hid major pronouncements in a thicket of words. He was indecisive when the nation wanted action. He hesitated when the nation wanted leadership. He compromised when the nation wanted definite commitments. Was he following the pattern dictated by the conflicting aspirations of a polyglot Canadian people? Or did he set the pattern? History must reserve its judgment on this question.

Yet it is the measure of Mr. King that in choosing his successor, he named a man who has those qualities of decisiveness lacking in himself.

Mr. King's retirement marks the end of an era of Canadian history which had its beginning in the turbulent years that followed the first world war, which saw a nation mature under fire in a second world war and which culminated in a year of the uneasy peace.

The length of his leadership, his accomplishments in social legislation, assure him a lasting place in Canada's history. In his leadership in war, in his making of Canada a leader among the smaller powers and the bridge between England and the United States, he has assured himself a place of honor in the history of the world.

Call For Probe Into Hydro

Mr. Norman Hipel, president of the Ontario Liberal Association, has been the latest to demand a royal commission to enquire into the hydro shortages. It is a just demand. As power shortages grow, so have grown public suspicions that the full story has yet to be told. If public confidence is to be maintained in the hydro commission, the full facts must be unfolded by an impartial investigation.

The official apologists maintain that the low water level is the sole cause of the shortages. Yet the question persists: Why were low water levels not anticipated and steps taken to guard against their effect? A low water level is the immediate cause of the shortages, yes. But the blame must rest upon the government that it did not take necessary precautions to ensure ample water storage against this possibility which after all, is surely not uncommon.

If, as the evidence indicates, the Des Joachims project was delayed by Mr. Drow, then, he should be censured for it. If the fault lies elsewhere, it should be made known and steps taken to guard against its recurrence. Such an enquiry should also concern itself with the oligarchic powers assumed by the hydro in the regulation of power consumption. Hydro officials may enter your home to check on power consumption without warrants or other traditional authorities and to prosecute the owner on their findings. Whether they possess this right by terms of a hydro contract is a moot point but the exercise of this authority has all the appearance of a repudiation of the sanctity of a man's home before the law.

We are told these shortages will continue for at least the next two winters. Since the public are the victims they have at least the right to full knowledge of the cause of the shortages and assurance they will not be repeated. The insistence that it was entirely an "act of God" inspires neither confidence nor co-operation.

Letters to the Editor

The editor: On Remembrance Day, there were two parades, one for the Newmarket Legion, the other for the Newmarket Veterans' Association. I understand that at a joint meeting the Friday before the parade, a single parade and its route were agreed upon but on the Thursday before Remembrance Day, your paper announces two parades at different times, even though they end at the same time.

It's a pretty sad commentary on affairs when veterans can't agree on a Remembrance Day parade. It's about time there was some unanimity of purpose among veterans. Newmarket Veteran.

Other Editors' Opinions

John Atkins in "The Scene"—"One of the disturbing signs of our time is the growing belief that work is a curse from which man should be freed. Socialists and Communists encourage this notion because it encourages discontent and helps to condition the people's minds for the revolution which they hope to bring about. It is bad enough to have this fallacy advanced by social and political dreamers; but when we find sound, sane-thinking people thoughtlessly repeating it, the matter becomes more serious."

The Stouffville Tribune—The town of Lindsay is considering an expenditure of $20,000 for an auxiliary power plant that would eliminate all black-outs in the northern town. The Lindsay commission is delving into the matter, and their findings will be watched with interest by other centres. The solution would come by way of installation of a steam plant.

If the result is developed, then the question may well be asked, why cannot other places do the same. Perhaps a steam plant that would service more than one town like Stouffville.

there is a strange old man who comes here every thursday night to pick up his copy of the newspaper. he has a beard down to his belt and a hole i think in the middle of his chest the beard is white and fuzzy and the hole in the middle of his chest is about a foot in diameter.

for weeks i watched him come into the front office to put his nickel in the box and take a paper. no one else around here has claimed to have seen him. funny thing.

i watched the old badger for a month and finally curiosity drove me to interview him last thursday night. i thought i might get a human interest story out of him or maybe a circulation booster. you know the kind boss quote old timer reads era a life long companion for seventy years unquote so who are you i asked.

the old man turned around and looked at me for a long long time his eyes burned right through me. my whiskers curled up my eyes fell out and the fur stood up like porcupine needles on my back. i was mesmerized to the spot. it was a mysterious occurrence.

a cloud of smoke seemed to drift around the old one and then it lifted in a hollow voice he answered i am the sage of main street.

so you are the sage of main street old leather face. i said but you don't have to hypnotize me to prove it. what a more your existence is not possible at all or i am seeing things. explain this conundrum of the hole in your chest.

with my inimitable reportorial precision i fired question after question at the sage and pried out his history.

i was an old soldier of the king in the late unpleasantness 39 to 45 i asked. no he said 1812 to 1814. i came here once to look for an american spy who it was said had been in these parts. there was a price on his head naturally but all i found in this town was his pants which he had left at a tailors to be mended. i waited for a whole year for him to come back and pick up his pants for in those days there was no delivery service. i thought i would be able to seize him but he didn't come back that's how i became more or less attached to this community. i was part of main street for a whole year.

and what did you do then i asked.

i started back to the border and on my way i got mixed up in a raging battle. i was shot through the chest with a cannon ball he sadly related.

so you got yourself killed i said sympathetically.

yes and since i was so attached to this community the astral judges permitted me to come back in spirit and be of guidance to the good burghers of newmarket. so since you are connected with an organ that beats time so well with the throb of community life i shall be at your service whenever you need me. mark my sagely words i am a wise one.

i hope you realize boss what a journalistic asset i thought i found.

finally i prepared for the coupe de plume of the week and said oh sagely one if you can foretell the future tell me what lies in store for us loyal subjects after your oncoming municipal election question mark.

dewey and the republicans will sweep the country dewey and the republicans will sweep the country dewey and the republicans. . . a broken record he was.

i tell you boss sages and pollsters are all alike.

Should the farmer pay income taxes?
There have been two wars and they have to be paid for. The farmer must do his share. But before he can pay income tax, he must know his costs. A large part of farm costs is labor, labor of the farmer and members of his family. How to figure that?

The other major difficulty is the number of occurrences over which the farmer has no control. We start our hay in good weather and we get some of it nice and clean—sweet, good feed. Then comes rain and our hay turns black. It must be turned to dry and we lose the leaves and the leaves are the protein. More work turning and pitching.

Some of our grain feeds good and some does not. We start to feed and we do not get the same gain on milk or beef from our poor feed. How are we to find our costs?

One litter of pigs goes to market at five months, and another takes seven months to feed off. Turnips this year are mostly water and are not good feed, but the same amount of work is needed as if they were good.

We certainly must put in our labor costs. A friend of mine said he made $17 each pig on a litter. I asked him what he charged for labor. Nothing, he says. Depreciation? Nothing, he says. How about the pig that died? "I forgot about that," he says. How many litters fed at that profit? One. The rest made $12 each. Here we have the cost without labor, without overhead.

That's like going into a garage to have my car fixed and being charged for the parts only, no labor, no overhead. Or going to a clothing factory and asking that they don't charge labor or overhead on my overalls. I would be told to go home and have some of the 3,000 schoolteachers who studied psychology make a check up on me.

We farmers never think about the real cost. All labor and overhead are added to the goods we have to buy. In the Voice of the People two people have written on the farm family, saying they should be paid for the work they do, or at least the farmer should put his family labor in as an expense.

There are two account books, one set up by the department of agriculture and the other by the Income Tax Division. In the latter, on page 18, there is the question: "May I claim as a farm expense an allowance for the members of my family when the money is not actually paid out?" Answer: "No".

These two books can be secured at the post office or banks. Every farmer should have them. Reading the tax book, it seems that the farmer puts down everything he sells. His labor and the family labor just go in—there is no account of it.

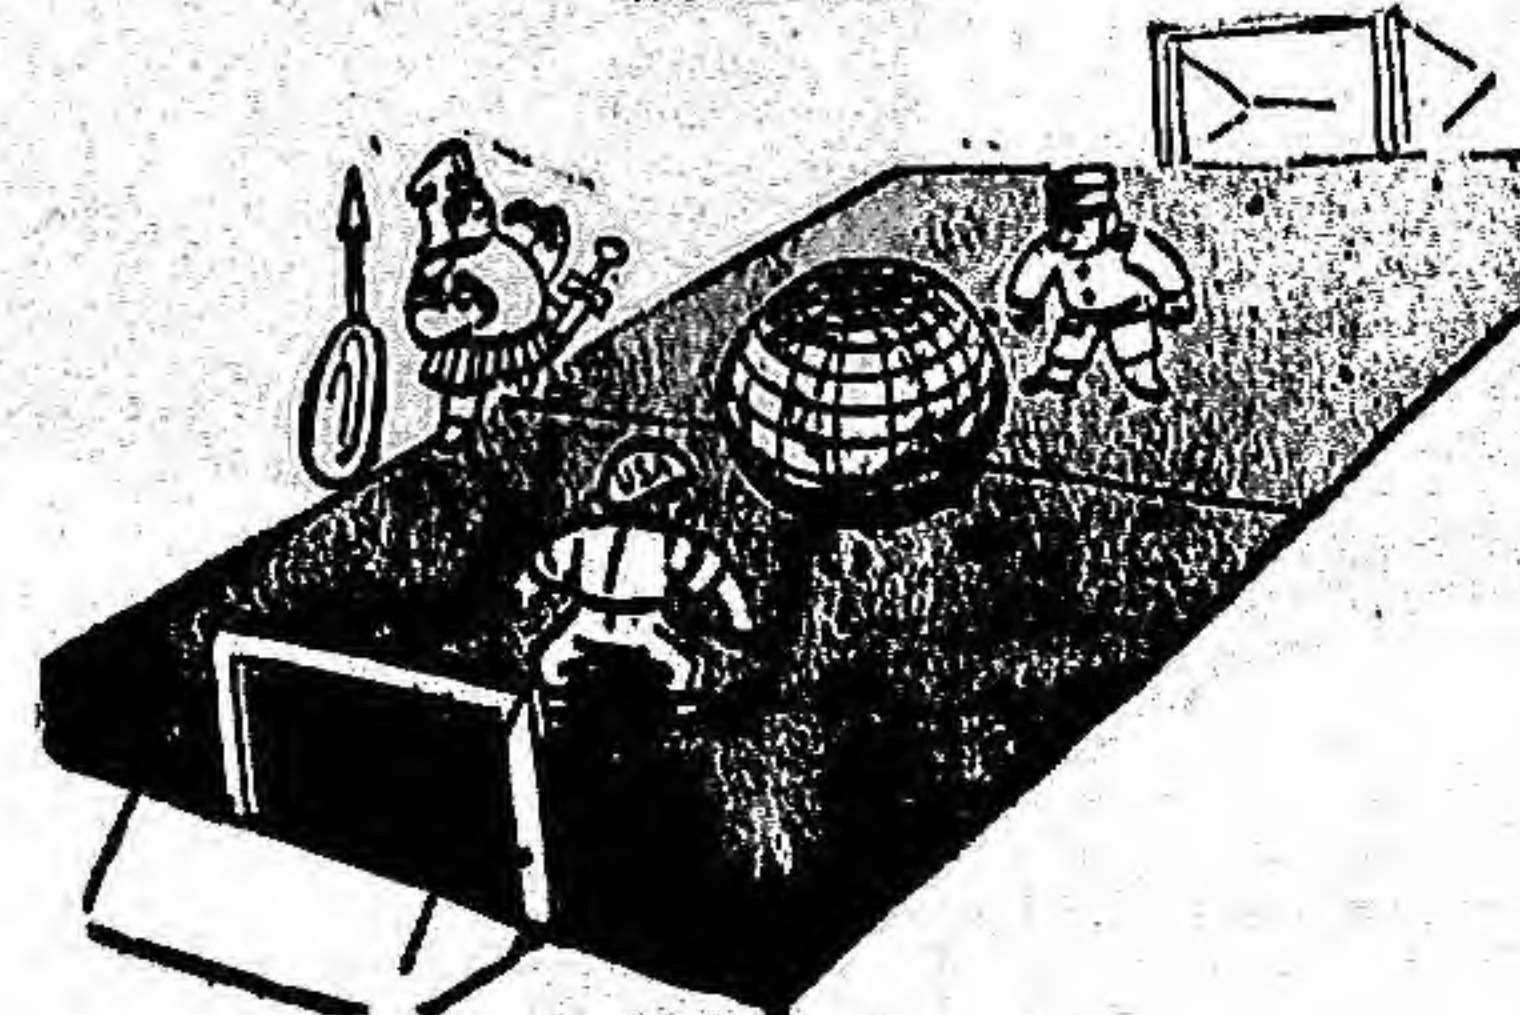

Now that the income tax people want all farmers to fill out tax forms, we farmers must study our costs, and start to keep our accounts. Our farm leaders when they are making contracts to sell our food, are finding it hard to do business without costs to go by.

The O.A.C. in order to bring its work closer to the farmer, is making tests on farms. A year ago, hog feeding stations were begun. The farmer was paid to keep accounts of raising and feeding hogs. They didn't change their way of feeding or doing things. One farmer's costs for weaned pigs was $5.56 a pig more than at another farm. One farm had a debit of $169.08 and his pigs graded 48 percent. The other farm showed a profit of $1,454.21 and graded 81 percent A. Is this debit bad luck or bad management?

Why not farm in England where the farm labor works 48 hours a week, with overtime pay and holidays with pay? The Co-op farms in Saskatchewan run by 17 veterans of the last war were hulled out last year. This year their crop is worth somewhere around $120,000. This is one of 12 such farms in Saskatchewan.

IMAGINATION

(As written by the shores of Lake Simcoe)
Caught in a ray of emerald light
I see,
A wonderland long lost beneath the sea;
What wizards whispered of Atlantis,
My fancy wanders through at ease.
Formidable, the forest of the deep defies me,
And far beyond, a silver castle do I see,
Lost in a lovely tangled maze Of scarlet lotus and blue ivy.
And there a great cathedral of the deep, dark sea;
Its sapphire glow, a promise yet to be;
I stretched my hand to touch the house of God,
And held a tiny pebble in my hand.
—Chloe Collett, Aurora.

RAVENSHOE

Miss Joan Rose visited Miss Mary Leitch at the General Hospital, Toronto, on Sunday.

Unobtrusively on September first, exactly nine years after Hitler started the war that destroyed the Third Reich, the Second German Republic came into being.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

If you worry about the impression you make on other people, remember this: You are really important to a large number of people!

Yes, almost everyone you meet and associate with depends on you to support their self-confidence in some way. Even those who seem "high hat" and independent really want to earn your favourable opinion.

Here are some ways to make yourself even more important to others:

1. Be a good listener. Go out of your way to express appreciation of what the other fellow says and does.
2. If he is your superior, show due respect. If an assistant, encourage him and let him know that you value his services.

3. Never belittle the ability or accomplishments of others. Be a booster.

4. Don't contradict, even if you are right. State your facts or opinions in some indirect way.

By following these hints you will enjoy better personal relations wherever you are. And this, in turn, will do wonders for your own self-confidence!

To his family, a father is the most important person in the world. And since the family depends on him for their financial support, the typical Canadian father protects his family with life insurance.

In Memoriam

Baile — In loving memory of our father, Ernest Baile, who passed away November 23, 1937.
Oh, how patient in thy suffering
When no hand could give thee
ease,
God the helper of the helpless
Saw thy pain and gave thee
ease.
Ever remembered by children
Marjorie, Frank and Ted.

Cryderman — In loving memory
of a dear father and grandfather, James Arthur Cryderman, who passed away suddenly November 17, 1947.
Your presence is ever with us,
Your love remains with us yet;
You were the kind of a father
Your loved ones will never forget.

Ever remembered by daughter Dellish, son-in-law Wilfred and grandson Calvin.

Cryderman — In loving memory
of a dear father, Arthur Cryder-man, who passed away November 17, 1947.
We do not need a special day,
To bring you to our mind;
For the days we do not think of you
Are very hard to find.
If all this world were ours to give,
We'd give it, yes, and more,
To see the face of father dear
Come smiling through the door.
Lovingly remembered by daughter Geraldine and son-in-law Ewart, and granddaughter Margaret Mainprize.

Cryderman — In loving memory
of a dear husband, Arthur Cryder-
man, who passed away November 17, 1947.
Your last parting wish
I would like to have heard,
And breathed in your ear
My last parting word.
Only those who have lost,
Are able to tell,
The pain in the heart
At not saying farewell.
Sadly missed by wife.

Drury — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Bella Hattle Drury, who passed away November 7, 1945.
When all is still and silent,
And sleep forsakes our eyes,
Our thoughts are in the silent grave
Where our dear one lies.
They say time heals all sorrow
And helps us to forget;
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss her yet.
Ever remembered by her husband George and family.

Graves — In loving memory of my dear wife Rosa, who slipped away to be with Jesus, November 18, 1938.
When at last the veil is lifted,
And the shadows flee away;
We shall understand His purpose,
Through one long eternal day.
Lovingly remembered by her husband Walter.

Haffie — In loving memory of my dear father, Wm. Haffie, who departed from this life just ten years ago, November 16, 1938.
Beyond the Gates, there are no
sorrows,
For there it is endless day;
Within that great Celestial City,
All troubles pass away.
While there to greet the weary pilgrim

Peat — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Edward H. Peat, who passed away November 17, 1934.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear.
Fond memories linger every day.
Remembrance keeps him near.
Lovingly remembered by wife and family.

Merchants Vote On Christmas Hours

Newmarket — A survey conducted by the Chamber of Commerce and covering practically all the retail outlets in Newmarket shows that a large majority is in favor of remaining open every evening and all day Wednesday of Christmas week, Dec.
20-24. Opinion is almost unanimous that Monday, Dec. 27, should be observed as Boxing Day holiday.

Opinion is considerably more divided on the question of whether or not the stores should remain open all day on the other Wednesdays during the month of December but a majority has been found to favor remaining open on Wednesday, Dec. 15, as well as on Wednesday, Dec. 22.
As practically all agreed to follow the intentions of the majority, it would appear that the following practice will be adopted:

Newmarket merchants will keep stores open all day Wednesday, Dec. 15, all day and evening from Dec. 20 to 24 inclusive, and close for Boxing Day, Dec. 27.

Separate School Board
Honors Winning Pupil

Newmarket—On Friday evening at 4 p.m. Bernard McHale, chairman, and Art Peppiatt, secretary-treasurer of the separate school board, visited St. John's school where on behalf of the board, Mr. McHale congratulated Donna O'Halloran for her splendid effort and success in the recent York County Oratorical contest. Mr. Peppiatt presented Donna with a cheque and a beautifully worded letter containing the congratulations and the best wishes of the board.

Donna, in a few well-chosen words, expressed her appreciation to the board for its kind thought on her behalf.

ORGANIZE TEAM

The Newmarket Basketball club is holding twice-weekly practices at the Newmarket high school. A pick-up team of fellows anxious to continue in the sport, the team has purchased its own uniforms. Included on the roster are Don Brown, John Hisey, Danny Blair, Red Mc-
Nern, Francis Elphinstone, Mike
McCaffrey, Dick Hamer, and Jos.
Dales.

PICKS RASPBERRIES

Newmarket—Mrs. M. McKee,
Timothy St. W., picked raspberries from her garden this week.
She left a branch of them at the office and they were quite large and tasty. She wonders if anyone else has any of a good size and not frost-bitten.

A solo by the president was enjoyed by all. At the request of the Newmarket Hydro Commission, Mrs. Stephens made an appeal for conservation of electric power in the homes and assurance was given that all would do their utmost.

Thursday, December 9, is the date of the next meeting of the society.

Two-Day Food Course Sponsored By W.I.

Newmarket—The Newmarket Women's Institute is sponsoring a two-day demonstration on Your Money's Worth in Food to be held in the agricultural rooms, Balford St., on November 22 and 23 at 1 o'clock to 4 o'clock.

With the present high cost of living and especially the high cost of food, it is natural that everyone is anxious to look into the question of food purchasing and food preparation. To guard good health we cannot afford to skimp on the food section of our budget. It is possible, however, to have balanced meals yet obtain the greatest value of our food dollar. This can be done if every penny we spend on food buys food for health.

The course will be conducted by Miss Barbara Broadfoot, Women's Institutes branch and home economics service, Ontario department of agriculture. A complete meal will be prepared on each afternoon. A booklet of recipes will be given to each person attending the demonstration. Wise spending of food money and meal planning will be discussed. All women of the community are invited.

Homemakers' Exchange

Hot rolls always make an impression whether it is the family or important guests who are being served. By following the up-to-date methods recommended by the home economists of the consumer section, dominion department of agriculture, even the inexperienced cook will obtain good results. The basic recipe may be varied in many ways.

BASIC SWEET ROLL DOUGH
2 Cakes compressed yeast or 2 envelopes (2 tsp.) fast-rising dry yeast
1 Cup lukewarm water
1 Cup milk
1/4 Cup butter or shortening
1/4 Cup sugar 1 Tsp. salt
2 Eggs, beaten
5 Cups sifted all-purpose flour (approximately)

Soak yeast in lukewarm water. Scald milk, add butter, sugar and salt and cool to lukewarm. Add enough of the flour to make a thick batter (about 2 1/2 cups), then add yeast and beaten eggs and beat well. Add more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on a lightly floured board and knead until satiny. Place in a greased bowl, cover and let rise until double in bulk (about 2 hrs.). Then punch down and shape into rolls, or coffee cake. Let rise until double in bulk, 1/2 to 1 hour. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes

Her flowers were red roses and white 'mums. Miss Eve Gatti, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and Miss Patricia Duncan, sister of the bride, was maid of honor in blue taffeta and carrying nosegays of pink roses and white 'mums.

Best man was Mr. John Catania and ushers were Messrs. Donald Duncan and Nick Gasko. At the reception held in the Legion hall, the bride's mother received in a grey dress with brown accessories, assisted by the groom's mother in a steel grey jersey suit with navy accessories. PHONE 355

This is the second half of an address given to the Home and School Association by Miss Ila Haines of Alexander Muir school on preparing children for school. The first part of the address appeared last week.

Nature is not in a hurry. Teach the child to speak clearly and without baby talk so that he can be understood by his teacher and the other children. Build up the child's background for reading with the old Classical Tales, Aesop's Fables, Mother Goose and all the old Fairy Tales. For mothers who want inspiration and hints for making stories listen with your children to Dorothy Jane Gouldings' "Kindergarten of the Air" on CBL every morning at 10.15. From this program mothers can learn much to prepare children for reading. It is much more important than teaching your child to read. Let him watch the birds, as they fly, spiders as they run along their streets and so on without end. Notice colors. When he enters school the observant child has a rich background of experience from which to draw the ideas he needs. He can do so much more and therefore develops into a broader individual. Give your child some musical experience. Singing together is most valuable. You can also encourage him to dance around the room in rhythm to a phonograph record, expressing the moods that the music generates. This will make him welcome the music period at school with friendly recognition. Let us now consider the matter of good manners and courtesy. To a little child of three or four years "Good Morning" or "I beg your pardon" or "Thank you very much" can be a game and a happy one. A child picks up good manners and if he is given plenty of chance to practice them, he goes to school fortified with a habit which may occasionally be forgotten but which will often be an asset. A child should know how to greet adults. Are you proud of his manners on the bus, in church, on the street, in stores and on visits? It is probably true that we adults are growing careless of this aspect of life ourselves. Since your children will in later life, have to earn money or at least handle it, they should learn a few fundamentals about it early in life. No child, not even one from a wealthy home, should receive money without giving some service in return. He should be taught a few things about spending it. Children do unwise things with their allowance that parents know nothing about. The world pays dividends to those who assume responsibility. When work is undertaken a child should realize he has the responsibility of doing it well and without constant watching. We should not accept half-done jobs, this gives the child the idea that shoddy work is acceptable. It is up to the parents to teach standards of conduct. It's inevitable for children to imitate us. It's the primary law of learning. The finest and most valuable thing a mother can do for her child is to give him a home environment where religious training is given much thought and careful consideration. A child who has been taught at home to reverence God easily learns that greatest of all lessons, self-discipline and the objective of all teaching, self-improvement. A home where the will of God is stressed is a training centre that can't be surpassed. When a child comes home with a tall tale, listen to him, but don't fly into action before you know the whole story. Remember many children tell elaborate stories at this age. Any teacher is glad to explain the incident if you will take the trouble to discuss the situation with them, and not be content to take the road of least resistance and believe exactly what the child tells you. If your child does embroider events, don't react as though he were lying. Show him that you know this is just a "pretend" story and that you are enjoying it with him. If the parents are all too ready to blame the school or the teacher they can effectively sabotage the best efforts the school can make to educate their child. Good health is a great advantage to a school child. There is a close alliance between the mental, temperamental and physical in a school child's life. Therefore one of the most important things to do before school starts is to take your child to the doctor and dentist and have him completely checked. Temper tantrums, which have no place in the school room or elsewhere are often traced to some physical disorder. Laziness may come from nutritional anemia, "dullness" from deafness, poor eyesight or malnutrition. Failure to keep up with the class work may be caused by absenteeism due to frequent common colds or avoidable contagious diseases. Ill-fitting shoes, teeth which are decayed, enlarged tonsils and adenoids all play their part in many a maladjustment. Until these conditions have been carefully corrected the child is not ready for school. Many procedures that make for health should be automatic. Children should build such habits as going to bed cheerfully at an early hour, playing outdoors every day and removing all extra clothing when they come indoors. It's up to the parents to see that the child gets off with a good breakfast and something that sticks to his young ribs to offset the late morning energy lag. Parents should see that the child has plenty of time to eat his breakfast. We have studied how the home can prepare the child to take advantage of the great privilege of education, a good home discipline, training in good manners, co-operation and concentration can be great assets to the school child. In addition, a constructive attitude towards education prevails in the home a child is ready to enjoy school and become well prepared for life.

The Common Round...

AREA CONVENTION

There is something about going to a convention that sets such a trip apart from a shopping excursion or a pleasure jaunt. You feel a sense of responsibility — you are representing something worth while; you are going with your mind open to new thoughts, purposes and pleasures.

But first there is the matter of the alarm clock. Years have never given me any assurance that it will fulfil its function. I wind it, I wind the alarm, I pull the horrid little button and call heaven to witness that it is as it should be. Then when the lights are out and I try to relax for sleep, I'm perfectly sure I've moved the hand in winding it and so, on goes the light, only to find that the hand points to five o'clock, as it should.

One more I lie down. This time to drift into dreamland only to wake with a start, sitting up in bed reaching for the clock and knocking over a glass of water. And it is 3 o'clock and all's well. Just as sleep is claiming me again, Beauty comes and rubs her whiskers over my cheeks and whispers that she is sure she can catch a mouse if I will only let her out.

Now, this is a sore point — if she wishes to go out while we are reading, she goes to Archie — she's his cat — but if it is in the dark and cold she claims me as her own — and people say cats have no sense of humor! How, ever 5 o'clock does come; the alarm does go off and the day has begun. It flew by quickly as I did the hundred and one things that always seem to crop up.

Eventful Trip

Our start was without the dramatic episode of last year when Archie, attired in pyjamas and dressing gown, chased the bees. This year Mrs. G. Hunt, Mrs. F. Williams and Mrs. G. McClure and I had a pleasant and uneventful trip and reached the Royal York just as many other women were pouring in. There were 702 women-less homes that day, which was a record in convention attendance.

It was an inspiring sight to see the rows and rows of women's faces, crowned by a multitude of creations, of which few bore any resemblance to each other, or to those of yesterday.

The meeting, as always, opened with assembly singing, led by Mrs. Graham. Then followed a report on home economics by Mrs. W. J. Walte of Lindsay, who said she had received 15 reports out of 15. Many noteworthy things have been accomplished by her district. One branch served hot lunches to school children at four cents each. Brides modelled wedding gowns. "A recipe for a sweet disposition" was good. "Use and abuse of money;" "That good homes make good citizens;" "Life is a garden—what are you planting?" "Home economics help lay the foundation for better lives" were some of the topics. "Meetings should have something to hear, something to do. Get new Canadians — they may be able to give demonstrations of new things, and tell about their former homes. Give them and new brides a warm welcome," she advised.

Mrs. Tatcher, Federated Provincial President, said her job was a full-time one — arduous but enjoyable. It cost $5,000 for the film, "Let there be Light," and $200 for repeat film. "Home and Country" is to be larger. Visitors from various countries had been entertained, each serving to strengthen international Institute relationship. There are 43,000 Institute members in Ontario's 1,300 branches. She said that we must be citizens of the world as well as of Canada—we are involved in mankind. No sector of the world can ever again live to itself. We must have knowledge of world affairs, acceptance of world responsibility and there must be co-ordination of effort.

Miss Eade then told of her work with the girls and the girls themselves took over. A great many Junior Institutes have come into being and are fitting members for daily living and for larger responsibilities. The girls gave interesting, amusing and instructive demonstrations in showing bedroom accessories, and serving a difficult invalid — in a bed on the platform—and persuaded her to take her proper diet; and then demonstrating a vegetable plate in which variety of color and content must be evident. It was exceedingly worth while. They also skillfully packed an overnight bag and demonstrated how to be a welcome guest. This brought the morning session to a close. I will leave the luncheon meal and speeches for next week as I wish to write a few words on two other subjects.

Memorial Meeting

The Bogartown Community Club held a meeting of remembrance on Friday evening, Nov. 12, in the school house. "O God, our help in Ages Past" was sung, prayers were offered by Mrs. G. McClure, who with Mrs. E. Starr presided, and by Mr. Frank Sheridan. "O Valiant Hearts" was read by your scribe. Then Mr. Yielding of Toronto spoke a few words stressing the need for peace in our own hearts before we can ever attain world peace. We are, said he, so often in conflict, each one of us with God, that even our own peace is hardly won. He also set up an easel and drew against a background, over which waved the Union Jack, three white crosses to symbolize the "crosses row on row" and over all a great cross stood white and serene typifying the supreme sacrifice. David Preston and Mrs. Starr read portions of scripture and Elna Toole gave a splendid address on "Why I'm proud of being a Canadian." The meeting closed with God Save the King.

Next week I shall also speak of the remembrance observance at the Area Convention. It is always solemnly beautiful.

If you have children—consider this

Many men are now buying Insurance Policies for their teen age children and for children even younger. They buy them to provide money for children's higher education or to provide capital for the starting of a modest business as well as for protection.

Sometimes there is an understanding between father and son that when the son earns enough to pay all or part of the premiums, he will do so. This compact between father and son works out well. It teaches thrift to the young man and strengthens his sense of responsibility.

If you have a boy or girl a Confederation Life Representative will be glad to show you what can be done along the lines here suggested and within the compass of your means. Your inquiry will bring a competent representative to see you about it.

Mount Albert — Twenty-nine ladies were present on Thursday at the Women's Institute meeting at the home of Mrs. H. Shillington. After catering for two hot suppers the ladies had a net profit of $180.85. Meyer, editor of The Era and Express, who gave them valuable information along the line of publicity in reporting meetings and also advertising the doings of the society. Tell the things worth while, that will attract attention and make the reader want to attend these functions, he said. He explained why minor details should be left out and urged that all news should be sent in early. All organizations get more support when the public know what is being done.

Misses Margaret and Marlene Ross and Margaret Leck sang nicely several trios unaccompanied and at the close a short remembrance meditation, Hope for the World, and a remembrance day paper concluded the program.

Forum Reviews Findings On 'Let's Go Farming'

The following is a report on Farm Forum findings, compiled from local reports by provincial headquarters, on the November 8 forum discussion on Let's Go Farming:

Since Ontario is a large province and provides us with a variety of soils and types of farming, we took an average of the reports received from every county and district, learning the majority opinion to be that a farmer in this day and age should aim to start up with tractor equipment, and that the figure was $7,967 for land and $4,991 for stock and equipment. Throughout the province the figures varied greatly, revealing the varying costs of producing grains, tobacco, fruits and vegetables, and dairy products.

Many suggestions were proffered to help a young man acquire and equip a farm. Aid through credit unions and co-operative enterprise, sharing the father's farm, starting early to acquire good stock through calf clubs, working for other farmers for a few years, gaining experience and cash, and co-operative use of farm implements in the community, were several suggestions. Some groups felt all they could do was help in seasonal work. Many felt that a system of long-term, low-interest loans should be arranged and that the government could do more to help young farmers, since food is a vital item and many young men are leaving the farm, being unable to start up farming under present conditions and with no assurance of price stability. Partly of prices was mentioned.

A most practical idea was submitted from a Waterloo county forum. They went beyond the immediate question and suggested that every farmer in the county be assessed a special levy of $10 per farm for five years, the fund to be managed by a board of directors in co-operation with the county council. A standard for application should be required and those closest to 30 years of age be given preference. All farms to be purchased within the county, and the fund to remain there as well as loans on farms and equipment, or in cash within the county treasury. Could this be adopted as a county project, like the medical services plan?

It was felt the government would not allow farmers to make a rate of profit equalling that of certain manufacturing companies, nor could the laboring man pay for his food if this were the case.

Lakeview Forum
Boyer's Road—The Lakeview Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. Ben Tomlinson. It was decided that a girl helping on her father's farm should be paid a wage the same as a man. A father and son working together on a farm should have a written agreement to protect each other's interests.

The next meeting will be held at Stewart Stinson's home. It is a review night.

Second King Baptist Church Has Centennial

Schomberg — About 90 members, adherents and guests gathered for supper to mark the 100th birthday of the Second King Baptist church. The tables were set by the Schomberg ladies and were beautifully decorated with white 'mums'. After everyone finished eating, a short program was given including a reading by Mrs. R. V. Rhodes. A humorous talk on birds by Mr. Snider, Toronto, was also given.

Daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Edwards gave two splendid piano duets. Miss Betty Edwards, Schomberg, sang a beautiful solo entitled 'There's a Rainbow Shining Somewhere'. Other solos were sung by Mrs. Baxter, one fitting in nicely with the occasion, 'Through the Years I'll Take My Place Beside You'. Murray Cook was also called on to sing. Our youngest members to play the piano were the twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Cober. A short comment was given by Ward Cook and best wishes were offered to Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Bowman who celebrated their 80th birthdays that week, and happy birthday was heartily sung by all for the oldest member of the church, Mr. J. Edwards, his birthday being the following day.

Roars of laughter came when Mrs. Bert Bowman held a contest for five boys with five balloons and God Save Our King was sung to bring to a close an enjoyable evening.

St. James' W.A. To Serve At McNern Sale

Sharon—The Women's Auxiliary of St. James' church met November 10 at Mrs. B. Phillips' home. Eighteen members were present and Mrs. Frank Vernon was a guest. The president led in prayer, Mrs. E. Kiteley gave the Scripture reading, Mrs. A. Blunt will do it in December.

Mrs. Phillips reported a box sent to Great Britain costing $6.34 and gave a description of the contents. An invitation from Miss Velma Thompson of St. Paul's was read and many resolved to attend the tea and bazaar in Newmarket November 12. The meeting voted $3 to Akalavak hospital, $5 to W.A. Diocesan House in Toronto, $2 to the upkeep of Cartwright Cottage.

Plans were completed for operating a lunch booth at the McNern sale November 20, members contributing. Next meeting will be at Mrs. M. Newroth's home if suitable, when election of next year's officers takes place. The refreshment committee to be Mrs. H. Vanstone, Mrs. G. Nicklin and Mrs. J. Welch. Mrs. F. Hall, Living Message secretary, took renewals of the magazine for 1949. A splendid collection was received.

Guests at Mr. and Mrs. W. Wilmot's home this week included Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Seder, Flint, Mich., who are on their honeymoon; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McMaster and son, Ryan, Kingston, motoring to Sudbury, and Miss Rosmand Falls, Montreal.

By W.I., Meeting Told

Belhaven — The November meeting of the Women's Institute held at Mrs. John McNeill's home, Willow Beach, was successfully carried out. A crowd was present to enjoy both the business part of the meeting and later the program. The members decided to continue the support of the French child. Boxes of clothing and food were donated for shipment overseas.

Mrs. Erwin Winch gave an interesting account of current events. "More demonstrations rather than long lectures" was one of the many thoughts well expressed in a paper given by Mrs. Lloyd Kay on Bricks and Bouquets, an annual feature on the publicity program. A contest staged by Mrs. Bernard Davidson on "How well do you know your Institute?" proved instructive to all. Interest was shown in a talk given by Mrs. Harry Horner on "The Women's Institute and the Country Woman". This outlined what the country woman could accomplish through the Institute for her home and finally for her country. It was stated that the Institute acts as the country woman's forum. Through it, along with other farmers' organizations, the farmers are slowly but surely crystallizing their wishes and making them known. As a result they are receiving more of the consideration and respect which is their right. Through the Institute the rural women are actually helping to form the laws of our land. Attention was directed to the ideals set forth in Ode and the Creed. The younger women were challenged to so fit themselves that the hand that rocks the cradle will rule the world, as it most surely does, a little better.

It was a pleasure to see Miss Main out again after her recent illness.

Mrs. Crittenden was welcomed as a new member. Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. W. Thompson, Mrs. H. Huntley and Mrs. M. Sedore.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman King and Floyd visited at the homes of Mrs. King's father and sister, Mr. John Phillips, and Mrs. Ernie Pilkey, Claremont, recently.

Rae McClure and Myrna spent a couple of days at Thornbury recently. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lehman and John spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ford Lehman, Thornbury.

There will be no Young People's meeting this week.

Frank Shevitan is serving on jury in Toronto.

Ask Contributions For Personal Parcels To U.K.
Newmarket—With the reputation of having sent the greatest number of personal parcels to Great Britain for its size, Newmarket is again being asked to contribute to the Personal Parcel campaign. This time, however, the Newmarket committee, under the chairmanship of H. J. Luck, is working in conjunction with the United Emergency Fund for Britain (U.E.F.B.), a voluntary national organization set up to make aid to Britain more effective.
The U.E.F.B. operates in the following ways: cash donations will be used for the bulk purchase in Canada of food and other supplies to be shipped in bulk to U.E.F.B. warehouses in the United Kingdom free of ocean shipping charges. These will be packaged and distributed in Britain.
Parcels individually packaged or in bulk for approved recipients in Britain, and forwarded in collective shipments to U.E.F.B. Canadian warehouses by groups or organizations in Canada, will be transhipped to Britain without charge.
Food orders covering standardized parcels packed from U.E.F.B. warehouse stock in Britain may be purchased, at a minimum flat rate for shipping and handling, for delivery to designated recipients by U.E.F.B.
When arrangements have been completed, donations of used clothing, bedding, etc., will be received at U.E.F.B. provincial collection depots and shipped and distributed in Britain without charge.
It is hoped that arrangements may be made to ship, free of charge personally packed parcels of approved contents addressed to relatives or friends in Britain.
The British government provides free ocean transportation, dockage, inland transportation and warehousing, and exempts all shipments through U.E.F.B. from customs and excise duties. U.E.F.B. will have its own collection depots in Canada, and its own warehousing, packaging and distribution centres in Britain. All this will save costs and make gift money go farther.
U.E.F.B. will maintain up-to-date information on British needs, utilizing the knowledge and experience of British welfare and relief agencies. This information will be available to all groups in Canada, interested in British aid efforts.
In Newmarket, contributions can be made to any of the banks, the clerk's office or The Era and Express.

News 'n' Views By George Haskett

The books closed on the final turbulent week of the soccer fun last week as the Vets and Specialty fought down to the bitter end and along about 10, Friday, the Vets went away the champs. The Vets were fast and willing and had perhaps a trifle more run. The Officemen had several of their key booters resting up from some previous shin shock treatment. Never a doubt, it was a most successful punting season. Right now, with an eye to the future, we're told the league is toying with the idea of selling the game to our neighbors in Bradford, Aurora, and perhaps Stouffville. It would indeed make some interesting kicking for another year.

The present town league of course would function with an all-star band selected to battle the outside opposition. Several enquiries from other sections as to the league, it's rules (we'll beat you to the punch) What rules? The regular patrons had an opportunity for a look see at the bantam and midget pick-up squads at their kicking chores and liked what they saw. So there is an opening there to provide a little fall excitement in the minor ranks.

The town league captains, Fred Dillman, John Hisey, Fred Gardiner, "Cecagers" McDonald, "Cec" Andrews and Barney Revill all did a grand job to keep the games on the go.

Hoffman "Spittfires" our intermediate O.H.A. banner toter, hit the ice Sunday at Barrie for their initial work-out. Harvey Gibney put the 23-man squad through their paces. Loads of talent, more expected, another go this Sunday at Barrie.

Our Legion friends, these past several seasons have sponsored the midget entry in the O.H.A. "Mickey" Smith, sports chairman, reports there's likely a new deal in the offing. Instead of O.H.A. competition, the Legion will set sail with a six-team N.H.L. midget circuit. The winning combo gets the nod to go into the all-Ontario N.H.L. midget finals run off at Weston for a number of years now. Thus, say with 15 young gaffers per team, all under a National Hockey League banner, you'll have no less than 90 lads taking up the winter pastime right in the canal-town. It does stack up like a busy round of activity.

In our weaker moments, it's always nice to contemplate what a hockey team the canal town could drop over the boards if all our pro and seniors could be coaxed back. Here's a quartet that would burn up the ice lanes. "Joint" McCombs is enjoying a great season with St. Louis "Flyers" as his team heads the Western Division of the American League. Herbie Cain is getting his share of the scoring points as Hershey Bears move up into the second slot in the Eastern Division of the same league. Hughie Blair, back in the amateur Marlboros, is just hitting his stride. "Scotty" racked up two goals and an assist against Stratford Monday. The Meteors hold the coaching reins as well as a defence post with Toronto "Meteors." The Meteors boast no less than six ex-pros on the roster and stage their home games at Lindsay.

O.H.A. convention, Saturday, Dec. 4.

Hours Changed For Spittfires' Practice

Hoffman "Spittfires" will make a switch in their practice hours this Sunday. Best available time at the Barrie arena was found to be at 8:30 p.m. So the call goes out, for practice number 2, to all intermediates making a trial with the club to report at the King George hotel, 6 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 21.

37 Turn Out For Aurora Juniors; See Big Year

Coach Bill "Red" Mitchell and manager Leonard Simmons gave the look-see to 37 aspirants for the 1948-49 edition of Aurora junior hockey club at Barrie arena on Sunday and the Aurora management was well pleased with what they saw. Mitchell didn't spare the horses and the lads had their tongues dragging as they skated off after 60 minutes of effort. Several of the youthful candidates will not be back again as with such a large squad to choose from, Mitchell must quickly get down to business, and skating ability and experience indicated these lads need more seasoning in lower company. Next Sunday, the team takes the ice again and there will doubtless be more new faces on hand. Players desiring to go to Barrie should communicate with Mr. Simmons at 415W, Aurora.

Dougie Moore, last year with Stouffville, Bill Mulholland, Newmarket juniors, Ken Tupling, Bradford and Newmarket, and Ray Rogers of the Aurora juvenile squad each had a turn between the pipes. While Moore is favored to annex the regular job, the competition is keen, and the youthful Rogers made a decided impression with his more experienced opponents. Eric Smith's pads will be in capable hands this year no matter who gets the starting role.

Defence candidates included Steve Latta, Bradford and Newmarket, Jack Stewart, Ballantrac, "Dinny" Draper, Mount Albert, Pete Widdington, Pickering College, Bill Dale, Schomberg, Gerry Firth and Red Wilkins, Newmarket juveniles, and Gerry Simmons, Aurora juveniles.

Indicating the strength on the left boards, in addition to those named above, Billy Ham, King, Don Gibson, Newmarket, Doug Ross, Mount Albert, Howard Timbers, Walt Tunney and Bill Stephenson of Aurora all looked good.

Hughie McRae, Bruce Rose, Bob Warlow and Grant Winters from Aurora minor clubs, Ken "Motts" Thoms, Newmarket juniors, and Ed Couch, Whitchurch twp., are the right wingers in camp along with Bill McGhee.

Andy Closs, Aurora midget, How Cox, ex-Unionville, "Ortie" Thoms and Greenwood, Newmarket, and Ray Marchant, Schomberg, all worked hard at centering trios of forwards, with Thoms favored to obtain a starting post by the critics.

Bill Hadfield, ex-Army boxing champion, replaces Bill Patrick as trainer this year and Bill should do a splendid job. Howard Case has assumed the secretarial post handled last year by Eric Smith in a dual task of player and executive. With the exception of Mitchell and Simmons no further officers have been elected as yet.

Everything at this stage points to a big year for the Aurora club.

Birdie Boys n' Girls Open With Win

The locals were able to hold their own with the visiting eight winning five of the eight games played to come down in front. Keen competition featured the contests with results as follows:

Men's doubles: Jack Ham, on and Bob Yates, Newmarket, defeated Harry Boyd and Keith Nesbitt, Aurora, 15-9; Charles Lee and Jack Peppitt, Newmarket, defeated Wilf. Preston and Frank Wims, Aurora, 15-7.

Sparks and Wilf. Preston, Aurora, 15-9.

The North York Badminton League held its organization meeting in Aurora last week. Entries were accepted from four clubs, Willowdale, Richmond Hill, Aurora and Newmarket. The election of officers followed with Jack Hamilton being sent to the president's chair.

He will be supported by vice-presidents, Geo. McLeod, Richmond Hill, and Charles Proctor, Willowdale. Frank Wims, Aurora badminton and tennis enthusiast, takes on the secretary-treasurer's duties. The league has a busy program lined up including inter-club competition every other week. Planned also

They were: Don Wright, captain; Nelson Shanks, Bruce Shanks; Nut Phillips, cook, from Newmarket; Harry Lundry and Arthur Meekey, Thornbury. Arthur Sheridan, John Sheridan and Jeff Smith joined the gang for the weekend.

It is interesting to know that the gang returned with count and will enjoy a deer steak dinner within the next few days.

Want To Play, Junior? Call Mickey Smith

Want to play hockey, Junior? Here's what you do if you are 14, 15 and did not reach your 16th birthday before November 1: Get on the telephone and buzz "Mickey" Smith at 330W. Tell that busy man you want to play hockey, whether you are a right or left hand shot, whether you play goal, defence, wing or centre. For this year, the Canadian Legion, Newmarket branch, hopes to ice a six-team national hockey league for the midget age lads. Now don't forget, do it now and tell your pals. Ready, Mr. Smith, action stations.

LIONS HOCKEY

Aurora Lions club will sponsor Aurora juveniles and four midget teams this winter. The juveniles will compete in the OMHA but the midgets will be purely local in scope.

is an open tournament near the close of the season with an impressive list of cups, trophies and prizes. Newmarket will send eight of its members to Richmond Hill Monday of next week.

Talent Plentiful With 'Spittfires'

We couldn't believe our eyes, not at first anyway. Last Sunday, that pre-dawn practice session brought out 23 hockey early birds for a whirl with the Hoffman Spittfires. That's their new name by the way—um um does sound a bit of alright, too.

Getting the squad off to Barrie and onto the ice under the ice generalship of Harvey Gibney proved no problem under the watchful eye of transportation expert Bruce Greig and trainers Pete Preston and Larry Scheffe who had the boys at their chores without a hitch.

Heading the pipe-minders' union, we found Joe Tunney, Pete Dillman, Grant Blight, Harold Andrews and Ted Taylor—a carload of talent there. Directing the blue-line traffic were Harry Caradonna, Cliff Gunn, Aubrey Smith and "Red" Connors. The latter is a graduate of the Uxbridge league last season and presently employed at the Dominion Bank.

Turning to the front strings, Bill Mabbett, last year's Stouffville junior, centred a line of Stan Gibbons on right wing and Myles McInnis on his left. "Tis said Mabbett is also out with Stouffville intermediates this season. How true is only a surmise. Leading another combo was "Murph" Jelley, flanked by Bob Smith and "Jing" Groves. A third trio of front runners, showing a lot of early season zipperoo were Jack Davis, Ken Groves and "Blondy" Todd. The latter needs no introduction to most local hockey men having performed with Ballantrac for quite some time.

Other talent noted along the line were Len Bone, Jim Coleman (no not the Globe and Mail sports columnist), Elmer Paisley (Mount Albert), and Joe Vandenberg.

Next week, further work-outs are planned and several new faces are expected, headed by Duke Dennis and Herbie Simpson. Might possibly be some back-wall problems. Gord "Whitey" Bone, laid up at present, will help to solve these, also if the club can talk Joe Peat into a return whirl, everything back behind the blue-line should be just dandy.

The idea, we have it from the make it a home-brew band.

Well Fellows, What Are You Waiting For?

From week to week you get a variety of happenings at the arena. Take last week when the thud of the toe against the soccer ball rang about the joint. From soccer doings, it swung to the swish of the paint brush and spray gun. Johnnie Hines led his "Volunteer" swing foursome—they'll welcome more by jingo—of Frank Sinclair, Harold Andrews, Geo. Haskett, into the arena Monday evening. When the battle was over, sections F.G. & H. had suffered a severe white-washing, pardon us, an aluminum ground coating.

The evening closed with the barber shop quartet rendering—that's about the right word for it—"When father painted the rink you couldn't see paw for paint." The tubes in the arena loudspeaker system suffered some unwarranted punishment from these after-hours shenanigans.

Now don't think for a minute the paint league has closed its entry list. No, not at all. The league will welcome another team or two. The present foursome can be greatly enlarged. No entry fees—just bring along a paint brush and if you know of any spray equipment it will be most welcome. You can get a lot of fun, get work done, and all in aid of our hard-working rink committee. You can take it from me, it will spruce up the arena no end.

One Goal Wins Soccer Crown For Veterans

Strong on the kick, strong on the run, with a lot of zip in the scrapping department, Freddie Dillman led his Vets to their second indoor soccer title Friday evening. In the third and deciding fixture, the Vets measured the Specialty hoopers 1-0. To coin a well worn phrase, it was a scrappy exchange. It could have gone either way as anyone will tell you. The Vets got that all-important goal and won the series.

After some early exchanges, it was Stan Gibbons, Vet winger, who cracked through the Specialty rear-wall. It was well along in the initial chapter when "Gib" whacked the pigskin past Chuck VanZant in the Specialty citadel. That tally sent—as events turned out—the game and title to the Vets.

The Specialty came back batting grimly but Tod Mosier, shining in the winners' goal, stood them off.

Thursday evening, the Specialty punters prolonged the play-off set by dumping the Vets 1-0. This battle, one of the best of the season, had all the fun and excitement you could ask for. It was a scoreless draw at the end of regulation time. Then the teams moved into sudden death over-time. With the clock at the nine-minute and 45-second mark, Ned Skead, Specialty front runner, broke in on goalie Tod Mosier. "Skeaster" adjusted his punting sights and lofted a short boot past Tod Mosier and that was the game, making a third and deciding tilt a necessity.

So it's tally ho to the champions, the Vets. Here's the roster that brought them the crown: Tod Mosier, Ed Russell, Cliff Gunn, Freddie Dillman, Myles McInnis, Ken Groves, Ivan Gibson, Merv Broughton, Stan Gibbons, Bill Johnston, Jack Caradonna, Don Smith, Normie Legge.

Cliff Bell Returned As Ski Club Prexy

At a well attended meeting held in the council chambers, Wednesday evening, Clifford Bell was returned as president of the Newmarket Ski club for another term. Two vice-presidents were elected, John Edwards and Francis Elphinstone. Robert Bickel was named secretary-treasurer for a second year.

President Bell reported that a shortage of materials had kept the club from going ahead with plans to erect a club house at the foot of "The Whopper" in the Glenville hills. This season, however, it was hoped the club could obtain the use of a house on the edge of the ski property for a club-house.

The trails committee reported at least one new trail had been cut and further work was planned until the opening of the season. In fact, this Sunday afternoon the club will welcome any of its members at Glenville for a trail-blazing session.

The Newmarket club is a member of the Canadian Amateur Ski Association. Last year the membership topped the 200 mark. Yearly pins will be issued to the members. So don't forget you'll be welcome at the trails this Sunday, bring along your skis, poles, wax, or any other stump removing equipment you have available.
